BOARDED BY THE RUSH.

The Schooner Adele Arrives Here From Behring Sea—Volcanic Disturbances.

Late yesterday afternoon the German sealing schooner Adele, Capt. O. W. Hansen, from Behring sea, anchored off Warren's wharf. She has on board a catch of 431 seal skins taken in the Behring sea. Rough weather is reported with seal rather scarce.

On the 10th of August the Adele was lying at Coal Harbor, Shumakin Islands. While there she was boarded by a boat sent from the U. S. cutter Rush. Lieut. A. J. Henderson was in command of the boat. On boarding the Adele he asked how many skins she had and where they were caught. He was told they were caught in the Northern Pacific ocean. No examination of the vessel was made, the United States Lieutenant not even looking below the hatches. The ships papers were asked for, however, and duly inspected. The officer was very polite and civil and made no threats nor used no language of an intimidatory character. Capt. Hansen told the officer that he should on leaving Coal Harbor go at once into Behring Sea. To this the officer said nothing, but left with Capt. Hansen a copy of the proclamation of President Harrison's pertaining to the Behring Sea.

On the 14th of July the Adele sailed into the sea, and made her catch undisturbed. She found the weather very rough and boisterous, more so than has been known for years past. Parties on board her who have been sealing for eleven years state they never encountered such bad weather in the sea before.

There have been some very severe volcanic disturbances this summer on the Ounimak Islands, and the natives there are frightened out of their wits. It is the opinion of sealing men that these disturbances have had the effect of changing the haunts of the minute animalculæ on which the seals feed, and in consequence the seals themselves have gone further to the westward. This theory is in part established by the fact that the catch of seals on the Cadfer Islands has been much greater this season than formerly.

Coming out of Ounimak Pass on the 21st of August, the Adele sighted the Victorian schooners Kate and Ariel, both bound home. She saw nothing of the schooner Lily, and has heard nothing of her from any of the other schooners.

Unbearable Agony.

For three days I suffered severely from summer complaint, nothing gave me relief and I kept getting worse until the pain was almost unbearable, but after I had taken the first dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, I found great relief and it did not fail to cure me. W. T. GLYNN, Wilfrid, Ont.

WILL BE BLOODSHED.

SERIOUS TROUBLE BREWING IN TENNESSEE.

A Fight Expected Between Whites and Negroes—Negroes Bombard a Planter's House—A Female Pugilistic Encounter—News From the States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A special to the Herald from Providence, R. I., says the Glerer mills, including the Providence and National worsted mills at Olneyville, and a large mill at the north end of the city, have been sold to a syndicate of English capitalists. Geo. Vanslyck, of New York, a lawyer, was in the city on Tuesday, and completed the transfer of the purchase. The price is stated to be about three million dollars. The mills have 600 looms and employ about 2500, and turn out 6,000 yards of goods daily. The syndicate is represented by G. R. Bonnard and D. Engle, of the Bank of England.

Deadly Quarrel.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Sept. 11.—Last evening a quarrel occurred in a saloon between Henry Nogle, a clerk, and four young men from the country. One was leaning over the counter and the others were on the floor, when Nogle fired from behind the counter. The ball entered the throat and broke the spinal cord of Lee Basham. The same ball continued its course and entered the brow of John Wilkey. Both men fell dead.

The Widow Assisted.

SAN SALVADOR, Sept. 11.—The appeal of the widow of Barrundal to the President of the United States having been printed here and the statement that she and her children were in a destitute condition, has caused provisional President Ezeta to cable the unfortunate woman $3000. Barrundal and his family have been his friends for years.

Two Female Beasts.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Mary Herbert and Marie Brown, daughters of residents of Pleasantville, fought a prize fight in a sixteen foot ring pitched in an old barn on the outskirts of that village, at 3 a.m. Sunday. The cause was rivalry for the attentions of a young man named George Woodward. Thirty-eight rounds were fought, in which both girls were severely punished, but neither had the advantage, and the combat was declared a draw. The combatants were stripped to the waist. Every part of their bodies exposed to view bore traces of punishment. The referee, seconds and spectators were all female friends of the principals. Woodward has since declared that he would have nothing to do with either of the girls.

A War of Races.

JACKSON, Tenn., Sept. 10.—A race war has broken out in the sixteenth district of this county which may lead to bloodshed. Negroes for some time have been cutting the wire fences around the pasture of J. R. Young, a planter. Young threatened them and about two weeks ago four of the negroes drew their guns on him. Young had them arrested and they were placed under bond. Last night a mob of near fifty negroes, at a late hour, went to the residence of Young and fired forty or fifty shots into the house. Believing they had killed the family, they began shooting the hogs and cattle. It has been learned that Young has secured a posse of friends and that if they meet with resistance they are going to exterminate the negroes from the community. Serious trouble is feared.

Unlucky Engineer.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sept. 10.—William Avery, a farmer, was struck and killed near the city limits this afternoon by the Lehigh express train. James Stewart was the engineer. He is very unfortunate in regard to the killing of people, though he is a good engineer. It is said that his engine struck and killed upward of 30 people during his life on the road.

It Was Fatal.

TACOMA, Sept. 10.—Ansel Anderson, a driver for the Tacoma Grocery company, is in a critical condition at his home, resulting from injuries received late last evening. His wagon had a tall top and it collided with and pulled down one of the trolly wires of the electric car line.

The wire fell across Anderson, giving him a terrible shock and knocking him off the wagon. The horses ran away and tore the wagon to pieces. An effort was made last night by the street car company to suppress the facts. Anderson is not expected to recover.

A Minstrel's Escapade.

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 10.—The McKanlass Minstrel company which performed in Walla Walla on Saturday evening has become stranded here. About four weeks ago Mr. McKanlass, who is an educated gentlemanly appearing mulatto, ensnared the affections of a young girl at Farmington, who has since accompanied him on his rounds. When McKanlass's troupe arrived in this city Saturday, a mutiny occurred among the minstrels and he had hard work to induce them to go on the stage. After the performance was over the troupe disbanded, and on Sunday morning McKanlass took the train for the east, accompanied by the girl whose affections he had stolen, also having in charge his little brother. McKanlass is a married man, having a boy aged about eight years and a girl aged five. His wife and children have not been with him for the past five months.

KILLED BY INDIANS.

A Young Man Supposed to Have Been Murdered by Cheyennes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A special from Miles City, Montana, says: Hugh Boyle, a young man employed on the Gaffney cattle ranch near the Cheyenne reservation, started out last Saturday to hunt stray cattle. Not returning that night, search was made, and his horse only was found with saddle and bridle. Yesterday a telegram was received by the coroner of Custer county from J. A. Cooper, agent at Cheyenne, saying that a murder had been committed there three days ago, and that the body was awaiting his arrival. There seems to be no room for doubt that the body is that of Boyle, and that he was killed by the Cheyennes. The grand jury at this place was compelled last Saturday to turn loose four Cheyennes, who had been in jail since May, charged with killing Robt. Ferguson. It is thought they are the guilty parties. Since May several hundred troops have been in camp in the vicinity of the Cheyenne reservation.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Its Merits and Demerits Discussed—Democratic Senators Arraigned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Senate took up the Tariff Bill again this morning. Mr. Hoar was the first to address the Senate, and, referring to the reciprocity proposition, he said he had voted for it yesterday and should not have done so if he had that thought the scheme contained in the amendment was likely to come out of entering on that policy. There were some great constitutional difficulties in the way which had been altered by Mr. Evarts. He thought also that on one side the reciprocal exchanges were incomplete, and that they contained one or two articles, especially tea and hides, that had to be dealt with solely in view of international interests and without relation or effect on other countries or their being taxed or untaxed. He thought also that the United States should determine to put an end, as far as legislation could do it, to the practices of foreign nations imposing export duties on products used here. He would have such products coming from such nations excluded altogether from the United States ports if they could be supplied from elsewhere. He, however, regarded the amendment rather as a declaration of purpose than as a definition of legislative policy, and it was in that belief that he had given it his support.

Hiscock commenced his speech with a bitter arraignment of Democratic senators, who, he said, had surpassed their predecessors and themselves in charlatanism, demagoguism, and insincere professions of devotion to the industrial interests of the country.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

The Strikers Charged With Wrecking a Train on Trial.

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The first examination of the men arrested at Albany for attempting to wreck the Montreal express took place before County Judge Griffith this morning at 10 o'clock. There were present John Cordial and John Kiernan, two of the prisoners, their counsel, Justice Wm. J. Ludden, Troy, Master Workman E. J. Lee, Secretary Portley and Treasurer Price of D. A. 146, Bowen Staley, of the same lodge, and the prosecuting attorney District-Attorney John P. Kelly. The prisoners were not in the least disconcerted and looked none the worse for wear.

The examination began at once. Judge Griffith said: Mr. Kiernan, you are charged with having feloniously tried to wreck a train on the night of Sept. 5th. How do you plead?

"Not guilty," replied Kiernan firmly, and with a smile. "John Cordial, you are charged with feloniously placing obstructions on the track of the New York Central Railway," continued Judge Griffith, "not guilty," replied Cordial, looking about the room with an unfaltering air.

Justice Ludder, counsel for prisoners said he "would like to think the matter over and talk with his clients."

District Attorney Kelly for the prosecution, said that the grand jury met on Monday, and that the examination might therefore as well be made on Saturday. The counsel agreed to this, and the matter was adjourned till Saturday at 11 a. m. When this was announced Master Workman Lee took out a roll of money, and handed a ten dollar bill to Cordial and four dollars to Kiernan. The men were then taken back to jail. Application has been made for bail.

SPORTING NOTES.

Brief Resume of Sporting Matters Here and There.

Everything has been satisfactorily arranged for a glove contest of 10 rounds for $150 a side between Dan O'Donnell, of San Francisco, and Bill Waters, of Victoria, both parties having put up a deposit of $40 each as a guarantee of good faith, the final deposit to be made on Saturday, (to-day) to the stake holders, Bill Phillips and T. J. Ridealgh. The contest is to take place in Philharmonic Hall on Monday the 15th inst.

THE ATHLETES.

Entries for the different events at the football shorts on Saturday at the driving park, are coming in lively and everything looks well for the best day's sport ever seen in this city. Any morning or evening during the past two weeks members of the different clubs might be seen either at the bill or driving park getting into shape for the different races. For the hundred yard dash, Allison, of the F. B. C., Dave Smith, of the Vancouver L. C., and Wade, of the Victoria L. C., are the favorites. For the quarter and half mile, W. Ward, T. Cusack and Alex. Kenning; and for the mile, Bellinghurst, Pemberton, Tite and Blight are all expected by their friends and admirers to be "there or there abouts" at the finish. Among the entries there are no doubt several "dark horses" who will make the favorites "hustle" if they have any idea of wearing medals.

A Letter From Emerson

"I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and I think it the best remedy for summer complaint. It has done a great deal of good to myself and children." Yours truly, Mrs. WM. WHITELY, Emerson, Man.

SOUTHAMPTON STRIKERS.

A SERIOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS AROUND THE DOCKS.

The Soldiers Called Out to Protect the Mayor—There Will Not Be Any Early Session—Sir John Macdonald Refuses to Speak on Reciprocity.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 10.—Affairs are still very menacing this morning. More troops have been summoned to the scene of the strike. A number of boats manned by strikers are laying out in the stream with the view of intercepting incoming steamers and prevailing upon their crews to strike. The admirality has been asked by the local authorities to assist in preventing this new move. Eight of the strikers have been arrested for rioting. The Mayor's residence was threatened by a mob today and he at once telephoned for soldiers which was instantly responded to, they arriving in cabs.

Sir John Talks.

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Sir John McDonald, in an interview, professes entire ignorance of any intention of holding an early session of parliament. In regard to the Behring sea trouble, he says he believed that the American government had still under consideration Lord Salisbury's latest proposal, but he did not know whether the question will soon be settled or not. As to reciprocity, it was time enough to speak of it when it was adopted by the United States senate.

Gladstone Explains.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—For a long time the Liberals of Canada have been endeavoring to persuade the great leader of the English Liberal party to visit the Dominion. In declining a recent invitation to cross the Atlantic, Mr. Gladstone says: "I regard with the greatest interest the condition and progress of Canada. I had to do with her affairs officially when she was in the trammels of an administration from Downing street, and I belonged to the cabinet which prepared the act and formed a plan for the erection of the Dominion, but I cannot hope to see that great territory at my age, and still more my engagements utterly disable me from crossing the Atlantic. I shall be glad if you will make this known to all such as may feel interested in the matter."

"English First, Please."

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The French Canadians are put out by an incident which occurred at the reception to Prince George last evening. The mayor proceeded to read an address first in French, when the Prince remarked, "In English first, please." The Prince's reply was spoken in French and in English.

Injunction Wanted.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—An injunction has been applied for to restrain the Pelican Club which has been the scene of the Smith-Jackson and Dixon-Wallace fight, from giving entertainments of a character which are likely to cause annoyance to residents, who have complained that the night was made hideous by glove fights and "smoking concerts" often lasting till four o'clock in the morning, so that people living near could get no sleep. Wells, steward of the club, made an affidavit denying the allegation of a nuisance. The Marquis of Queensberry and a number of police officers and others declared that the Pelican Club was a quiet and respectable establishment. After the statements of both parties were given the hearing was adjourned by the judge before whom the injunction was brought.

EINSTEIN EXONERATED.

His Jockey, Joe Barker, Makes a Sworn Confession.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The racing scandal which resulted in the disqualification of the owner of Rhodante, Charles Einstein, whose colors were the stars and stripes, for two years in France and Belgium, and the putting on foot for life of Joe Barker, the crack French steeple chase jockey in Belgium, France and England, and warning him off the turf at all meetings under the jockey club rules, has assumed a new phase. Barker has made a sworn confession, and upon this action for libel will be taken in the courts. In the document Barker says on July 27 I rode Rhodante. Einstein, who was not present, sent a commission, 55 louis, for his mare. I had myself 50 louis on with a bookmaker named J. Dunnen, of Paris, and my clerk (Hicks) put 27½ louis on also. Although shown in the course of the morning, I made a mistake and consequently lost the race. To prove this I backed my mount. I had to borrow of a friend at the end of the day, and on the second occasion, on July 29, I rode Rhodante over a different course, which was rather rough. Several people during the interim told me Griffler would beat me at a difference of weight of twenty-four pounds, and I, knowing that the horse was a bad one, believed them. Of course I spoke to Dumien, saying that as I believed their horse would beat me, he could make some for me by laying against Rhodante, but he refused to entertain it. I did not put myself in communication with other bookmakers. However, a gentleman from Brussels, a chemist named M—, in business there, spoke to me, and promised to put me seventy-five louis on Griffler, the only other rumor to which, unfortunately, I consented. I declare that C. H. Einstein gave me no orders how to ride Rhodante, he not being competent to do so. I told him nothing whatever of what I was doing. In fact, he told me he had twenty louis on his mare, Rhodante, and to do my best. Charles Einstein, the owner of Rhodante, is a partner in the Raritan woollen mills and the Somerset Manufacturing Company of New Jersey. He was a few years ago United States vice-consul at Stuttgart. His brother Edwin was a member of Congress from the Seventh district of New York.

A Beau of 1829.

When grandpa went a-wooing,
He wore a satin vest,
A trail of climbing roses
Embroidered on the breast.
The pattern of his trousers,
His linen white, and fine,
Were all the latest fashion
In eighteen twenty-nine.

Grandpa was a fine-looking young fellow then, so the old ladies say, and he is a fine-looking old gentleman now. For the past score of years he has been a firm believer in the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. "It renewed my youth," he frequently says. It is the only blood purifier and liver invigorator guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money promptly refunded. It cures liver disease, dyspepsia, scrofulous sores, skin eruptions and all diseases of the blood. For lingering coughs and consumption (which is lung scrofula) in its early stages it is an unequaled remedy.

Fifty-eight pieces linoleums, latest designs in all widths and qualities, just arrived at John Weiler's.

THE PATIALA MINT.

Methods of Making Money Employed by East Indian Workmen.

Captain Temple, in an article on the coins of modern Punjaub chiefs in the Indian Antiquary, describes the Patiala Mint and the methods of minting practiced there. The mint, he says, is an ordinary Punjaub court-yard, about twenty feet square in the open part, entered by a gateway leading into a small apartment doing duty as an entrance-hall, the remainder of the court-yard being surrounded by low sheds opening into it. These buildings, which look like the "rooms" of a serai, are the workshops. The method of coining in this very primitive "mint" is described as follows: "The silver after being assayed is cast into small bars by being run into grooved iron molds. The melting is done in the court-yard in very small quantities in little furnaces improvised for each occasion. The thickness of the bars is about the diameter of the rupee, and when cold they are cut up by a hammer and chisel by guesswork into small weights, and weighed in small balances as accurately as hand-weighing will permit. These are afterward heated and rounded by hammering into discs, and again weighed by hand and corrected by small additions of silver hammered in cold or by scraping. After this the disc is handed over to the professional weigher, who finally weighs it by hand and passes it. It is then stamped by hammering, being put between two iron dies placed in a strong, wooden frame. These dies are very much larger than the coins, so that only a portion of the legend can come off, and the coiners are not at all careful as to how much appears on the coin. The only thing they do is to try and make the particular mark of the reigning chief appear. If they do not succeed, it does not matter much."

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS.

How a Son Convinced His Father of His Commercial Enterprise.

There is a young man here in New York, says the Star, who dabbles somewhat in artistic and literary pursuits, and who occasionally buys and sells a picture. Sometimes when he visits some of the interior cities he takes three or four pictures with him, which he manages to dispose of at a comfortable profit. The young man's father, who lives in an Eastern Ohio town, and who has no sympathy with what he terms the vagabond pursuits of his son, often used to admonish him that he was getting to be such an age that he ought to settle down to "some legitimate business."

"Really," he asked one day, "are you making any money at all?"

"Oh, I can't complain," answered the son; "I manage to pay expenses."

Soon after the young man unpacked his valise and showed the old gentleman some pictures he was taking on out West with him. One of them particularly attracted the father, who asked the price of it.

"Oh, $300 for that, but if you would like to have it I'll make it $250."

The father gave a check for the amount and was greatly delighted with his purchase.

"I'm afraid, though, that you are not making any thing on this picture?"

"Oh, yes, I'm making a fair profit on my investment."

The next day, as he walked to the train the old gentleman said: "Now, you know I feel the greatest possible interest in your affairs and your success. Tell me what you made on that picture I bought from you."

"On that picture I made just $225."

The old gentleman was silent for two whole blocks and then he ejaculated: "Well, it isn't such a dreadfully bad business you are in after all. I guess you'll get along."

SHORT-SIGHTED PEOPLE.

The Curious Cases of Old Man Bowersox and Venerable Mr. Brayfogle.

They were talking about near-sighted men, says the New York World.

"Did you ever see old man Bowersox?" asked one. "Now, Bowersox was the nearest-sighted man I ever saw. He used to have the delirium tremens, and would have the biggest fights with boa-constrictors, green monkeys, pink rats and that sort of thing that you ever heard tell of. One day he was having a life-and-death struggle with a whole menagerie, and it was taking a dozen of us to hold him. Somebody sent for his wife, and the minute she entered the room she yelled:

"'Take off his spectacles!'

"We hadn't thought of that, but the minute we took them off old Bowersox heaved a sigh of relief and got well on the spot. Never saw a snake or a blamed thing after we took off his specs. Couldn't do it, you know."

"That was a curious case," said another, "but no more curious than the case of my old friend Brayfogle. Brayfogle was a great dreamer. He used to say that it was his greatest delight to go to bed and dream of his childhood's happy home. But, do you know, gents, he couldn't see his childhood's happy home or any of his old folks unless he went to bed and slept with his glasses on."

How to Mend Kid Gloves.

A contributor to the Ladies' Home Journal says a good way to mend a ripped kid glove is not to sew it, but to take a small piece of court plaster or surgeon's plaster (the latter is the better), turn your glove wrong side out and neatly apply the plaster over the rent or rip, first having drawn the rent part of the glove nicely together. Now, if this has been neatly done you can not perceive where the rip was. If the rip or tear is not a very large one it may be mended in this manner, but if the rip is a large one it should be nicely sewed and then the court plaster applied in the manner described.

Killed by Cigarettes.

A lad of seventeen years died lately at Pomona, Cal., from the excessive use of tobacco. He was known to have smoked in one day sixty cigarettes and two or three strong Mexican cigars. The doctors say he died of narcotic poison.

THE WIDOW'S MITE.

Story of the Copper Trinket Worn by a Noted German General.

An aged German General wore only one trinket, a much-worn German halfpenny, at his watch-chain. One day his grandson asked the reason of its presence in the place of honor, and the old General answered by telling a little romance. Baron Malortie, the grandson, narrates the story in his book, "'Twixt Old Times and New."

The grandfather was so severely wounded at Leipsic in 1812 that he was picked up for dead and thrown, with thirty or forty corpses, in a common grave. His servant, having promised the officer's father to bring his son alive or dead, searched for his master's body and found him still alive. A strong constitution and the servant's nursing allowed the officer to be removed at the end of ten days.

His father's house was a long distance from Leipsic, and the country was overrun by French patrols and marauders. The journey home was begun at night in a peasant's cart drawn by an old horse. Cross-roads were taken, and during the day they rested at some farmhouse.

One morning, after traveling all night, they reached a small village and stopped in front of a baker's shop. The servant went in to buy bread, leaving his master stretched on a bed of straw and rags, covered with an old mantle, and wearing a soldier's old cap on his bandaged head. There was nothing to betray his rank, but, on the contrary, he seemed a poor wounded private.

A poor woman, in a tattered black gown, with a child in her arms, looked in the baker's window. Suddenly she saw the wounded man. Glancing at the half-penny in her hand, and then looking at the bread in the window, she pressed the coin into the soldier's hand and hurried off without saying a word. She had sacrificed her own and her child's breakfast that she might relieve one whose need she thought was greater than her own.

At that moment the servant appeared and, by his master's order, ran after the poor woman. Overtaking her, he dropped a gold piece in her hand as a gift from the wounded soldier, who from that day wore the widow's mite at his chain.

ARTIFICIAL ROSE LEAVES.

Sweets Made of Communion Wafers and Bonbons That Intoxicate.

It may surprise some of the butterflies of fashion who live on dew and sweets to know that the crystallized rose leaves scattered over their bonbons are not rose leaves at all, although costing Charles and Harry and Harold five dollars a pound. The delicately pinched and curled petals, so pink and pretty and sweet to look and nibble at, bear a closer relation to a loaf of bread than they do to a blush rose, says the New York World.

Communion wafers, such as are used in the Roman Church, known in trade as ostilles, are imported from France at a trifling cost, along with the essence of rose, which costs $45 a pound, the duty alone being $12 a pound. This coloring matter is so strong that three drops will tint a whole pound of ostilles. After being wet with an essence and dried, the pink leaves are spread in a hair sieve and dipped in syrup. Then they take a trip through a heated oven and come out crystallized rose leaves.

Violets "candy" well enough, but the rose petals are too delicate to handle successfully. The undertaking is not only unprofitable but unsatisfactory, the artificial leaves being more agreeable to the taste and almost as fragrant as the natural. The ever-growing demand for chocolate bonbons brings out novelties every little while, the latest being chocolate and gold cats'-tongues. Think of eating gold with any thing! Of the indigestibility as well as the reckless waste of the precious metal! And yet thousands of pounds of cats'-tongues mottled with gold are consumed by New York candy-eaters every week. The little flat sticks are a finger long and shaped like the feline organ, the gold blotching it with bright yellow. It may relieve the lovers of chocolate to know that the gold mottling is not sufficient to be harmful, as one gold dollar will gild 100 pounds of chocolate tongues, or a penny's worth to every pound. Just now confectioners are experimenting with liquors. Brandy cherries, rum berries and cream bonbons filled with old whisky and cherry bounce have been laid aside for the perfection of liquor drops.

WOMAN PHYSICIANS.

The Gentler Sex Have Not Made a Success of Medicine in New England.

A recent issue of the New England Medical Monthly says:—Here in New England, where most fads find their birthplace, women doctors sprang into existence by hundreds, and few towns, even among the smaller ones, were without several representatives. They opened offices, went into society, joined churches, set up nice carriages and otherwise conducted themselves as their confreres of the male sex had been doing from time immemorial. Here and there, they obtained a fair amount of business and in isolated cases made a living. But as time went on, and the natural instinct of womanhood revealed itself, the new calling was found to be inconsistent therewith—to demand an amount of sacrifice of what in all ages has made women lovable, that few had strength to keep up.

Besides, and here lay the sting, it was soon found that their sisters, other women, persistently declined to employ their services. These, not unnaturally, clung to the idea that man, by virtue of that tenderness implanted in the bosom of all true men for women, would be certain to do better for them than one of their own sex, and would, to a greater degree, refrain from talking about them outside the sick room. Knowing their own physical inferiority, as well as the vast demand for physical strength that the medical profession enforces, they preferred a doctor on whose reserve force they could rely in case of need. So the woman doctors lost ground in that direction, and failed to gain it in others, until they gave it up as a losing game and went their ways into more congenial pursuits.

To-day, it is a fact that there are not a score of medical women who are making a decent living in all New England, and these, one-half at least, are non-graduates or are from irregular schools. A few swallows do not make a summer, and because the decade has turned out three or four such exceptional women as Mary Putnam Jacobi, it is no reason that all women are fit to study medicine, with ordinary chances for successes in making a living by its practice. And this is what we are all aiming at, sentimentalism to the contrary nothwithstanding.

What we assert is, that this matter of female physicians has been given a fair trial, and has been found wanting, and that the future will prove the same in its own convincing manner of leaving them out when the shekels are passed around.

FOUND HIS ENEMY.

Thirty Years of Waiting for Vengeance Knocked Into a Cocked Hat.

We were sitting on the veranda of a hotel at Niagara Falls, writes a New York Sun contributor, when I noticed the man on my right looking sharply at the man on my left, and presently he got up in an excited way and walked about. After a bit he halted before the other man and asked:

"Isn't your name Graham?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply.

"Didn't you used to teach school at Elmira?"

"Yes, sir."

"In 1863?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you remember a boy named Godkin?"

"Very distinctly, sir."

"Do you remember that he put a package of fire-crackers under his desk and touched them off?"

"As if it happened only yesterday."

"And you basted him for it?"

"I did. I licked him until he could hardly stand, and I've always been glad of it."

"You have, eh?" said the other, breathing fast and hard. "Do you know that that boy swore a terrible oath?"

"I presume he did, as he was a thorough young villain."

"He swore an oath that he would grow up and hunt for you and pound you within an inch of your life."

"But I haven't heard from him yet."

"You hear from him now! He stands before you! I am that boy!"

"Well?"

"Prepare to be licked! My time has come at last!"

He made a dive for the old pedagogue, but the latter evaded him, made a half-turn and hit him on the jaw, and Godkin went over a chair in a heap. Then the whilom schoolmaster piled onto him and licked him until he cried "Enough," and it didn't take him over three minutes to do it. Then he retired to get on another collar and replace some buttons, and I helped Godkin up and observed:

"You didn't wait quite long enough, I guess."

"Say! That's where I made a miscue!" he replied. "I see now that I ought to have held off until he had got to be about 150 years old. The old devil is all of 70 now, but he licked me right off the reel, and I'll never have the sand to stand up to him again. Here's thirty years of waiting for vengeance knocked into a cocked hat in three minutes!"

KOOTENAY GRAND JURY.

THE FIRST PRESENTMENT TO CHIEF JUSTICE BEGBIE.

Freedom From Crime—Inadequate Buildings—The Postoffice Department Condemned—Robson's Land Policy Disapproved of, etc., etc.

The first grand jury ever summoned in Southern Kootenay, made a lengthy and important presentment to Chief Justice Sir M. B. Begbie. It called attention to the inadequacy of the government buildings, the wretched postal facilities, the land policy of the Provincial Government, and many other matters of great public importance. There is nothing, apparently, that a grand jury may not discuss and "present" to the court, but unfortunately too often there the matter ends. The following is the presentment:

THE DISTRICT FREE FROM CRIME.

We congratulate your lordship on the remarkable immunity from crime hitherto enjoyed by our community. Our population consists chiefly of hardy, industrious, enterprising men, who are here with the full understanding that they must look to the future development of the district for the reward of present labor and hardship. Our people have very high and, we think, well-grounded hopes that an era of great prosperity awaits us as soon as we can get rid of the obstacles incidental to our somewhat remote and isolated situation. We find nothing of the nature of criminality, and nothing that may be considered as public nuisances, which is necessary to bring to the attention of your lordship. But there are a number of matters seriously affecting the business interests and the comfort and welfare of our people; matters, some of which lie within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Government and some within that of the Dominion Government; matters which have been the subject of strenuous and repeated, but unavailing, petition and remonstrance from our people.

PROSPECTS OF THE COUNTRY.

We trust that your lordship has seen during your few days of travel in the district some of the evidences of great mineral wealth presented by the different mining camps. What is already known of the magnitude and character of these prospects warrants the belief that we shall have here mining districts second in importance to none on the continent. We believe that the rapid development of this district will be a powerful stimulus and a substantial aid to mining operations throughout the province, and therefore, that the Government are justified as a matter of expediency in furnishing us, with all possible despatch, the requisite machinery and facilities for the cheap and speedy transaction of public and private business.

INADEQUATE GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

We find that the Government buildings in Nelson, used as a court house, recording office, and jail, is barely large enough for office purposes. We recommend that the cells now in it should be immediately removed and a seperate building with enclosed yard, provided for the accommodation of prisoners. During the winter season it is impossible to send prisoners from here to any other part of the province, and there is, therefore, necessity for immediate action. At Ainsworth we find that there is neither justice of the peace, constable, or lock-up; all of which are urgently required.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT ROUNDLY CENSURED.

We find that there is but one postoffice in the whole district—that at Nelson. During the summer months we have one mail per week. Last winter we had one mail per month, carried in from Kootenay, Idaho; and this was not established by the Government until after the people here had made a contract for a similar service at their own expense. We need a postoffice at Ainsworth and one at the custom house on Kootenay river, and at least two mails per week via Revelstoke during the season of navigation and two per week via Kootenay, Idaho, during same season. While as regards winter communication, we believe it would be entirely feasible to secure, by the payment of a moderate subsidy, a weekly mail and passenger service either by way of Bonner's Ferry or by way of Sproat to Little Dalles. The people of the district have asked many times for this increased accommodation, but have received no attention; and we greatly fear that at this moment no arrangement has been made or is in contemplation by the postoffice authorities to supply any mail service at all after the close of navigation on the Columbia. One consequence of this state of affairs is that a large proportion of our mail matter is brought to us by the steamboat men from the postoffice in Idaho, and a great deal of our mail outwards is carried in the same unofficial manner to be mailed in those offices. United States postage stamps have become a species of currency among us, and your lordship will readily understand that a great deal of trade which otherwise would be transacted within the province is diverted to a foreign country by this paucity of Canadian mail service.

LAND POLICY OF THE PROVINCE.

We find that at present the growth of the town of Nelson is almost at a standstill, because building lots are not to be bought except from private holders at speculative prices. The site belongs to the Provincial Government, and all lots (132 in number) put on the market have been bought, the prices realized at the last auction sale averaging nearly $300 a lot. A numerously signed petition was sent to the Government, asking for the survey and placing on the market of additional lots; but the reply received by the petitioners was a peremptory refusal. From our point of view this action seems most unreasonable and unjust. If land here is worth anytaing, it owes its value to the enterprise, the labor, and the money expenditure of the people who came here as prospectors, miners, and pioneer business men; and we maintain that at least so much land as the people here need for residential purposes should be placed at their disposal at a nominal price, and any such action, even if only temporary, as at this stage of Nelson's progress, surely a mistaken and non-progressive policy, and does us gross injustice. The lands adjoining Nelson are in the hands of private parties or locked up by the Columbia & Kootenay railway reserves. All the lands for two miles back, and on each side along the whole of Kootenay River and outlet, from the Columbia River to Kootenay Lake, are reserved, and the laws allowing the purchase of lands anywhere in the province have been suspended. The action of the Government in these matters seems to us to be vacillating, illiberal, and inconsistent. Our interest are most injuriously affected thereby, and we most earnestly request your lordship to use your influence with the Government to induce them to relax their regulations in some way, so that men requiring a few feet of the vast extent of waste land surrounding them on which to erect houses for themselves and families may not be compelled to turn their backs upon this country because of their inability to obtain it.

"FLOATING" BLOCK RESERVES.

The most important question by far, however, we now beg to submit to your lordship's notice. We refer to the land reserves made by the government under authority of the Columbia & Kootenay Subsidy Act. It was at first supposed that this grant of laud was to consist of blocks 4 miles square of unoccupied land. The railway company, however, have been allowed to establish reserves on blocks of land covering the different mining camps and townsites of the district. Not only this, but no definite starting posts or stakes have been fixed for these blocks, and the railway company thus seem to have a most favorable opportunity at some future time to place initial or starting posts at such points as will be most advantageous to themselves. While we understand that parties having title to land within these blocks cannot be disturbed, we desire to call your lordship's attention to the fact that the prospectors, miners, timber men, and others, who have but temporary rights to the land on which they are located, apprehend grave trouble and endless litigation should the present reserves be made final. Mining companies and others having necessary extension of their operations and works in view also to find that they may be compelled to pay to an outside corporation exorbitant prices for fractions of land which, except for their own expenditures, would be in a great measure valueless. We see in this state of affairs a future harvest of contention that will be disastrous and detrimental to the future development of this district. These deplorable results will, in our opinion, be completely avoided if the obvious meaning of the act be adhered to, and the railway company be compelled to locate these blocks definitely in such a way as to cover nothing but waste and unoccupied lands.

CONCLUSION.

The above questions we beg most respectfully to commend to your lordship's careful consideration. To us they are of the most vital importance, and to the province at large of by no means insignificant moment.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS
OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW.
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

THE SPECTRE OF THE TREASURY.

Considering the alleged enterprise of the Colonist, its avowed determination to furnish the public with the news of the day regardless of trouble and expense, its report of the proceedings of the School Trustees is a meagre, bobtailed, unsatisfactory reportorial effort. Of course we would not have it understood that the reporter scrimped things. That functionary without doubt took a full report, but when his precious narrative was submitted to the argus-eyed censor of the Colonist's internal economy the emasculative blue pencil got in its deadly work. But while we can understand that in a case of this kind the Colonist should sacrifice racy correspondence to brevity, and thus deprive some of its readers, at least, of a knowledge of the relations of the School Trustees to the educational Star Chamber, we are unable to account for the prefatory remarks, or in other words, the "heading" to the report. This preliminary effort is misleading. Five dollars is not much of a sum, but it is the reverse of ghostly. Intangible objects such as ghosts are supposed to be are not subject to ordinary conditions of detention. As transparently thin as the Government's plea of irresponsibility they elude the tightest grip. In the case of this particular five dollars, however, the Government seems to have a firm grip on it. Does that show intangibility? Despite the demand of the School Board, and despite the fact that Messrs. LOWENBERG & HARRIS are clamorous, the palm of the Government still hides from the face of men this ghostly five dollar bill. Is the Colonist warranted in treating this pecuniary declaration as the reverse of something tangible?

Would it were a ghost the Government wishes, doubtless. Would it were something that would dissipate in fine air leaving naught behind but the dimest sort of a reminiscence of an intrigue gotten up for the purpose of destroying public confidence in a faithful public servant. But though the Government may wish and wish, we fancy that this little ghost of the Colonist's will not down. With each recurring month, we fancy, will Messrs. LOWENBERG & HARRIS raise it for the delectation of the school trustees who in turn will exorcise it by referring it to James Bay, where it will reappear to startle the consciences of the functionaries of the department of education. And thus month after month will it make its weary, spookish round until, perhaps, HONEST JOHN fretted and worn by the ever-recurring presence of the little apparition will settle with Messrs. LOWENBERG & HARRIS out of his own pocket. Taking, however, a less supernatural view of the case than does our contemporary, assuming that in the aforesaid five dollar bill we have an indubitable entity, we may remark that though the government cannot be persuaded to forego their grip on it they are acting after a fashion at once penny wise and something like sixteen cents over pound-foolish. The bill ought to be paid. It was legitimately incurred. If the Goverament may disallow this bill, they may disallow any that does not happen to chord with their susceptibilities. And it is on account of their susceptibilities having been rasped that they disallow the alleged spectre of the Colonist's. The result of the corporal punishment investigation did not turn out to suit them. Had five or five times five dollars been spent by the trustees in fathoming the Government's occult intentions in the matter of corporal punishment, the doors of the treasury would have been flung wide open. It is all right, however. Government economy has revealed Goverament animus in the affair, and the alienation of the people goes on apace. This little ghost of five dollars is the precursor of a Philippi, as the educational Brutuses of James Bay will shortly find out. It is perhaps the best thing that could have happened that the Goverament repudiate the bill. "Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad," and madness surely prevails in the Educational Department.

SPITE WORK.

MR. GOLDWIN SMITH, says the Gazette, was guilty of a very foolish piece of prevarication when in addressing a farming audience at Niagara last week he asserted that "Things were about at their worst now. On the one side was the MCKINLEY tariff, on the other the FOSTER tariff. The MCKINLEY bill was framed by the Republican majority of the ways and means committee, and the changes in the Canadian tariff made last session were announced. Mr. SMITH ought to have known that fact, and should have refrained from the petty attempt to deceive his audience. The Gazette ought to know, and moreover ought to admit, that there was time enough for the FOSTER bill to go into operation when the MCKINLEY bill should have become law. At the time the FOSTER bill went into effect, how was it possible to know that the MCKINLEY bill would become law? What right had the Government to presume anything of that kind? The precipitate manner in which the FOSTER bill was sprung on the country, suggests the action of the small boy who, anticipating spiteful treatment from a companion, takes the initiative himself.

A DREAM OF SCIENCE.

Recent discoveries in chemistry seem to render simple and practical all the absurd dreams of the early alchemists touching the transmutation of substances into one another.

The experiments of MENDELEJEFF, MEYER and NEWLANDS seem to show that in the ultimate analysis all our so-called elements are compounds, and all matter is reducible to two forms of atoms. The difference between one substance and another appears to be nothing more than a difference in the geometrical grouping of atoms. More startling still is the fact that we are apparently upon the eve of discovering how to change that grouping, converting any substance into any other at will. If this seeming promise is fulfilled the transmutation of the baser metals into gold—which the alchemists so long and painfully labored for—will be a commonplace of the laboratory, and a writer in the North American Review is at pains to show that in that case gold would become one of the baser metals, so far as value is concerned.

But the world has learned much since the alchemists broke their alembics. Our chemists would not now bother themselves with the useless task of making gold if the power of transmutation were theirs. They would seek real wealth in the conversion of worthless inorganic matter into life-sustaining food with which to supplement the products of the field. In such a discovery would lie the supreme achievement of science and its highest possible ministration to the welfare of mankind. It would eliminate hunger from the world and render want impossible.

THE SECRET OF JOURNALISTIC SUCCESS.

The New York World attributes the secret of its success to the following reasons:

1. Absolute independence and fearlessness in the editorial column.

2. Absolute impartiality and fullness of statement in the news columns.

3. A constant advocacy and defense of the rights of the ill-treated, the oppressed, the poor and the unfortunate.

As a second feature of its policy which has conduced to its success, the World mentions its sensational features. Dilating on this phase of journalism, the World says:

"The World is a sensational newspaper, but it is only necessary to bear in mind the fact that the American people, more than any other in the world, readily overlook mistakes founded on an intention to give them the news, and do not care a button whether a newspaper is given to sensationalism or otherwise, so long as it presents its news in the most palatable and attractive form. The World has struck this nail on the head from the beginning."

Comment is superfluous. All readers of newspapers best understand, given independent editorial columns, whether they can excuse sensationalism, "founded on an intention to give them the news."

In this connection, though scarcely apropos, we cannot forbear quoting "Bystander."

"Lord Coleridge has been fluttering the British Press by warning his friends against blind deference to the opinion of journalists. He says he has known many journalists and that if they had talked to you over a dinner table you would have thought nothing of them. The criterion is characteristic of a famous diner-out. A man may be silent or dull in company and yet be a great statesman or publicist. Lord Coleridge has an easy task in arguing that blind deference ought to be paid to the opinion of no man or journal. He may also do good by admonishing people to clear their minds of all false glamour belonging to the editorial "We," and take the editorial for what it is worth. But he will hardly deny that used not as oracles but as helps to political thought and sources of political information the editorials of the London Press are worth a good deal. They are worth at least as much as most of the speeches in Parliament, which in truth are reproductions of the editorials. The Press has superseded Parliament as the forum of national debate. A man who reads only one paper and treats it as his oracle is a slave; in the rural districts there are still such people; but in the cities most men see two papers. Among the educated class, the power of the Press, moreover, is now divided with the daily journals by the magazines. On the whole we are pretty well guarded against journalistic dictatorship. Ontario suffered from it twenty years ago, she now suffers from it no more. The serious question—one of the most serious for civilisation—is, what is behind the Press? How many journals are there which are free from clandestine influences alien to the common weal? If Lord Coleridge would turn his inquiries that way he might be of great service to the state."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Colonist unfortunately for its double tax ideas, is not read away from Victoria. Single tax clubs abound in [illegible] States of Pennsylvania; twenty-five in New York; fifteen in Ohio; thirteen in Massachusetts, and so on. The movement does not champion GEORGE'S compulsory nationalization of land scheme.

The Volapukists, lately in session in Boston, claim 50,000 disciples, of whom about one-tenth are entitled to be called experts. These 50,000 are scattered about the world more or less, but are chiefly gathered in several cities where the Volapuk craze, like the Ibsen fad, has been epidemic. It is claimed for Volapuk that it will become the universal language after a little more time. But in the race for universality Volapuk seems to be far behind English, and in danger of being distanced, for already it is said that there are not more than a few thousand square miles of territory, in the interior of Asia, where English will not pass current with at least one person in every community. It seems as though persons who have surplus time for the study of language on their hands would do better to cultivate a good speaking acquaintance with the English language proper than to trifle with a mongrel creation that has no abiding place on the face of the earth.

CAPTAIN JACK'S STORY.

The First Confederate Flag Flung to the Breeze on the Mississippi.

The first Confederate flag ever flung to the breeze on the Mississippi was raised by Captain J. F. Jack. To an interviewer at Saratoga he gave an interesting account of the incident and of his eventful life, as follows:

"I was born in 1830 in Ohio. In 1847 I drifted down to New Orleans, and there, without friends or money, began the battle of life. Shortly afterward I joined a circus, and traveled with it on the road. Then we went up and down the Mississippi river on a floating palace, touching at towns along the shore and giving entertainments. This palace was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide, and would seat 2,000 people. I ran this boat for our company until 1859, when I took charge of the Banid, a smaller craft. On this boat I had a number of French Zouaves, who gave musket drills. As soon as Fort Sumter was fired upon I ran the craft up to Vicksburg and sold out every thing, even to the muskets, which were purchased by the Confederates. Then I came North and remained a few days in New York, but as my feelings and interests were all with the Southern people, I returned to New Orleans, purchased a passenger boat called the Charm, and proceeded up the river. Arriving at Vicksburg I met the Prince, a small steamer in command of Captain Reeves, coming down. It was while we were moored at Vicksburg that I hoisted the Confederate flag. You see at that time every one was making a decided stand for one side or the other, and one day Captain Reeves came aboard the Charm. He had a Confederate flag in his hand, and he said to me: 'Captain Jack, these are the colors we are sailing under now.' I said: 'All right,' and taking the flag I nailed it on a long pole, and lashed the pole to the mainmast. But, understand me, if it were to be done once again, I would not do it. In fact, no colors would go to the top of my mainmast except the Stars and Stripes. After that I continued to run steamboats in Southern waters until 1875, when my health failed, and since that time, with grip in one hand and pocketbook in the other, I have explored the world, and especially the United States, which is to my mind the greatest country on top of God's earth."

A Gown Weighing Three Ounces.

About the year 1700 a fair young bride in the village now known as New Haven wore a dainty costume of white. The gown was cut low in the neck and was sleeveless. The dress was of light and filmy texture, and weighed but about three ounces. It has been handed down from generation to generation, until at last it has come into possession of a Danbury lady. The dress is remarkably well preserved and is extremely valuable, both from its age and the beauty of embroideries with which it is covered. The design of the trimming is prettily worked in the coarse linen thread so common in those days.

A Singular Swiss Custom.

Until within a few years a singular custom has obtained in Switzerland. When husband and wife expressed a desire for a divorce they were required to enter a room and live therein together for a fortnight, during which time they were neither to see nor to converse with anybody else; their food was passed to them through a narrow opening in the wall, and all communication with the outside world was cut off. If, at the end of a fortnight of this confinement together, the couple still clamored for divorce, it was granted without further ado.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

LABOR CONGRESS SYMPATHIZE WITH WELLINGTON MINERS.

Annual Meeting of Labor Congress—Vancouver's Representatives—Forming a Platform—Sir Adolphe Caron Reply to Sir Frederick Middleton.

From our own Correspondent.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Sir Adolphe Caron has replied to Sir Fred Middleton's parting words to the people of Canada. There is nothing new in the reply of the Minister of Militia to the ex-general of the Canadian forces, beyond that we at last learn the recommendations of the general in respect to granting promotions and decorations to certain officers who had distinguished themselves in putting down the rebellion was not acted upon because some officers in Ontario were omitted, who, in the Minister of Militia's opinion should have been included. That is what Sir Adolphe tells us. Just fancy the Minister of Militia interesting himself so much in the welfare of the Ontario militia. For some years past the militiamen in this province have waged a perpetual war against the Minister, and they have taken good pains to show the cause. On the other hand Sir Fred. Middleton tells us that the reason for not granting the promotions he desired was that the two Quebec colonels—that is the one who ran ran away, and the other who wished to take charge of the stores—were not included. It is not difficult to judge at what decision the Canadian people will arrive, as to whether Sir Fred. Middleton's charge or Sir Adolphe's reply can be best credited. As for myself, I feel like the woman out in the west who, on seeing her husband fight with a bull dog, said she did not care who won; neither of the parties lie deep in the affections of the Canadian people, and both have been rewarded to an extent far beyond their deserts.

CANAL TRAFFIC.

A few days ago a blue book was issued in regard to canal statistics. The returns show that last year was the largest in the history of Canadian canals, both in regard to American and Canadian trade. The quantity of freight passed through the Welland canal from United States ports to United States ports amounted to 563,584 tons, as compared with 434,751 tons in 1888, and 484,478 tons in 1886, the largest total previously recorded; while the quantity of freight passed through the canals from Lake Erie to Montreal was 323,567 tons, as against 203,209 tons in 1888, and 261,315 tons in 1886.

LABOR CONGRESS.

The Dominion of Canada Trades and Labor Congress opened its sixth annual session here to-day. All the delegates arriving in time yesterday to take part in the Labor Day demonstration, which, considering it was the first, was successful beyond the expectations of the most sanguine supporter of the labor movement. The procession was large, and included all the city trade and labor organizations besides many from a distance. In the afternoon a picnic was held in Lansdowne park, when over 3000 people were present. At to-day's meeting of the congress about 70 delegates, bearing their credentials, were in attendance. It may be said that the objects of the organization, according to its constitution, is "to unite all the labor organizations of the Dominion, so as to secure the enactment of new laws or amendments to the existing statutes in the interest of wage earners, and to further, by every honorable means, the welfare of the working classes." Ma or Enatt welcomed the delegates, and then President J. T. Carey was called to the chair and gave an appropriate opening address.

PACIFIC COAST REPRESENTATIVES.

The representatives from the Pacific present were George Bartley, Vancouver Trades and Labor Council; Thos. Salmon, Miners and Mine Laborers Protective Association of Vancouver; and H. Gowan, Vancouver Typographical Union.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

According to the report of the Ways and Means committee of last session an assessment of eight cents per capita was levied on the membership of all bodies represented at the last Congress, and all others who signified their willingness to affiliate. The revenue from this source had been sufficient to meet all expenditure connected with the Congress, the receipts being $479.67 and the disbursements $477.76, leaving a balance of $1.91, which together with the balance of $82.26 on hand at last audit left the amount of $84.17 in the secretary's hands. In connection with the publishing of the annual report, the secretary recommended that hereafter the detailed statement of receipts and expenditure be not printed therein, but that a recapitulation be inserted instead. He made this suggestion for the reason that the proceedings goes into the hands of those who have no right to be informed in regard to their membership or from what source they draw their revenue. The statement could be printed in sheet form and forwarded to those who are entitled to it.

WELLINGTON MINERS.

Mr. A. F. Jury moved, seconded by Mr. J. Armstrong, "that the Congress extends its sympathy and support to the miners of Wellington, British Columbia, now on strike for the recognition of their organization, the right to combine and the establishment of eight hours as a day's work. And that a copy of this resolution be telegraphed to them at once."

Mr. Darlington suggested that something more substantial than sympathy be sent.

The motion was carried unanimously.

LABOR PLATFORM.

Delegate John Bartley, of Vancouver, B.C., moved, seconded by D. J. O'Donoghue, ex-M.P.P., that a committee be appointed to take into consideration the advisability of forming a labor platform for the coming Dominion elections. A long discussion ensued which showed that notwithstanding the labor party's devotion to their cause, they are still stronger political partizans. Finally a resolution was carried to the effect that the resolutions passed by Congress at this meeting be the platform on which the labor party will take its stand at the next Dominion elections. The Senate was condemned for its rejection of the Combines Bill. Meetings will be held again to-morrow morning and next day.

CURING A MASHER.

The Little Scheme of Two Boston Women in a New York Car.

Some women are capable of dealing with even the grosser form of this beast unaided, says a writer on "Mashers" in the New York Sun. Two Boston women who saw the sights of the metropolis alone last week used with good effect a weapon which had proved efficacious in dealing with the mashers of the Hub. One of them [illegible] a long and strong handle, which ended in a point almost as sharp as a brad awl. She found early occasion to use it in a train on the Third avenue. She and her companion occupied a cross seat, and the double seat opposite was soon taken by one of the most offensive of the masher tribe. Not satisfied with staring impudently at the ladies, he presently attempted to insinuate his foot between the feet of the one carrying the parasol. Apparently by accident, she brought the point of her parasol down smartly upon the fellow's foot. He gave an involuntary exclamation of pain and withdrew to the end of the seat opposite the other lady. The lesson seems not to have been severe enough, for a few minutes later he insulted her in the same manner. This time he was punished in earnest. The woman carrying the parasol watched him, and suddenly leaning over to look out of the window she jabbed the brad point into the fellow's instep and gave it a quick twist before he could draw his foot away. The man cried out with pain, jumped to his feet and limped out of the car. The passengers could not understand his actions, and the lady with the parasol looked as much surprised as anybody. If these parasols are a Boston institution, the makers of them might find a ready market in New York just now.

THE LONG PENALTY.

She Was Fretful and Cross, and Her Life is Weary Now.

Mothers who sometimes feel disposed to murmur at the restrictions involved in the care of little children may learn a lesson from this pathetic incident, narrated in the Home Magazine:

I was tired of washing dishes; I was tired of drudgery. I had always been so, and I was dissatisfied. I never sat down a moment to read that Jamie didn't want a cake, or a bit of paper to scribble on, or a bit of soap to make bubbles. "I'd rather be in prison," I said one day, "than have my life teased out so," as Jamie knocked my elbow when I was writing to a friend.

But a moment came when I had one plate less to wash, one chair less to set away by the wall in the dining-room; when Jamie's little crib was put away into the garret, and it has never come down since. I had been unusually fretful and discontented with him that damp May morning that he took the croup. Gloomy weather gave me the headache, and I had less patience then than at any other time. By and by he was singing in another room:

I want to be an angel;

and presently rang out that metallic croup cough. I never hear that hymn since that it doesn't cut me to the heart, for the croup cough rings out with it. He grew worse toward night, when my husband came home and went for a doctor. At first he seemed to help him, but it merged into inflammatory croup, and was soon over.

"I ought to have been called sooner," said the doctor.

I have a servant to wash dishes now, and when a visitor comes I can sit down and entertain her without having to work all the time. There is no little boy worrying me to open his jack-knife and there are no shavings on the floor. The magazines are not soiled with looking at the pictures, but stand prim and neat on the reading-table, just as I leave them.

"Your carpet never looks dirty," say weary, worn mothers to me.

But my life is as weary as theirs—weary with sitting in my parlor at twilight, weary with watching for the little arms that used to twine around my neck, for the curls that brushed against my cheek, for the young laugh that rang out with mine as we watched the hissing coal fire or made rabbits with the shadows on the wall, waiting merrily together for papa's coming home. I have the wealth and ease I once longed for, but at what price? And when I see other mothers with grown-up sons driving to town to church, and my hair silvered over with [illegible] I think what might have been had I murmured less at the providence of God.

BURST IN THE MAINS.

The Twelve-inch Supply Pipe Temporarily Disabled—Repairs Effected.

At an early hour this morning the 12-inch main burst at Foote's Valley, and thousands of gallons of water escaped from the break before it was shut off. Water Commissioner Summerfield at once sent a force of men out and repairs are being rapidly effected and the lack of pressure due to the shutting of the main will soon be increased. The 16-inch main, however, is the only source of supply meanwhile. It has been suggested that in view of the fact [illegible] are now on hand that the old 12-inch main be taken up and replaced with a 24-inch. The old pipes, or such of them as are suitable could then be used as distributing purposes in the city. The break to-day shows the good of the 16-inch main, for without it the water supply would have been closed.

MR. HALL'S IMPRESSIONS.

Is Astonished at the Abundance of Flowers Growing Here.

Mr. J. W. Hall, of Leadville, Col., who recently paid Victoria a visit, thus relates his impressions of the city and its environs to a reporter of the Herald-Democrat, a Leadville publication:

Victoria is a most delightful city—a regular flowery paradise. One can can hardly believe that flowers and fruits would grow in such abundance, but the place is one vast botanical garden, and the people devote much time and attention to keeping up these horticultural beauties. One could readily believe that they were in an old English town. There was only one thing that I could not get used to, and that was turning to the left. In this country, when you meet a person, it is customary, in passing them, to turn to the right. In Victoria the people, adopting the old English way, turn out to the left. As a result of this, I was always having collisions and running into people, and it kept me busy half the time in avoiding unpleasant encounters.

HOW THE WARSPITE STRUCK HIM.

Perhaps the greatest curiosity to a dweller in the heart of the Rockies is a ship. In the harbor at Victoria were six British war vessels, the largest being the Warspite, a splendid iron-clad gunboat. I visited this vessel, and what I saw was something in the nature of a revelation. There were over 600 sailors aboard, and everything was in the most perfect order. I never saw nor heard of such discipline as was preserved on board. It was just like some great machine, and how the whole thing didn't sink, encased as it was in ten inches of solid iron armor was a mystery to me.

THE FAR NORTH.

Mining and Other News From Alaska Territory.

From the Alaska Free Press, Aug. 30.

This week a bond was given by Messrs. Sylvester McMahon, Max McMahon and Peter Rocco, to Messrs. Williams, Johnson, Koehler and Dolph for the McMahon placer mine, comprising about twenty acres of ground, and situated in Shuck bay. The consideration of the bond is $6000, $1500 of which is paid down.

During last winter and spring the original locators opened up this ground by tapping the basin with a tunnel, and from a short run about $1000 in gold was taken out. The new company have commenced work to prospect the ground thoroughly preparatory to putting in an extensive placer mining plant early next season.

Captain Carroll announces that if he does not return to Juneau on the Queen he will on the Topeka, and will take up his residence here for some time. The captain is in the race for Alaska's first representative to Congress, and undoubtedly he is a strong man in that direction.

W. F. Reed has returned from the Bald Eagle claim situated at Sum Dum bay, and reports things looking well on that property.

On Thursday last Messrs. Miller and Snow left with several weeks' supplies to open up a find recently made by them in the range between Snettishane and Sum Dum bays. While in town they had an average test made of their ore which proved most satisfactory. The ore in character is grey copper and galena carrying silver, and the indications are that this is a most important discovery.

The steamer Julia left the first of the week with men and supplies to commence operations on the Ophir group of mines, situated at Berner's bay. This is the property that was bonded last week by the original locators to Messrs. Koehler, Williams, Johnson and Dolph for $40,000, and who, it seems, are not going to waste any time in proving up the property.

Capt. Erskin, of the steamer St. Paul, from Ounalaska, says Victoria poachers this years have secured 20,000 sealskins. In consequence the North American Company, which leases the seal rookeries from the government, finds its take this year reduced to 20,000 skins. It is merely a matter of a few years, said Capt. Erskin, when seals will become extinct. It was reported at Ounalaska that there were fifty-five poaching vessels at Sand point on the way to Behring sea. So far not a single attempt has been made to seize any contraband vessels. The Bear is now in the Arctic Ocean and the Rush at the Pribilof Islands.

The season of regular annual visits of shriveled up men, homely women, red headed girls and bandy-legged dudes to Alaska is over. In other words, our tourist season for this year has come and gone. The shop of the curio dealer is closed, and from an immense pile of coppers and nickles the dealer himself is trying to figure out his season's profits on baskets and horn spoons.

The natives around Ounalaska, according to the statement of a gentleman who has just come from there, fear the eruption of another volcano, which promises to break forth one of these days. It is located about one hundred miles from Ounalaska, at a place known as Oonamak.

CITY AND PROVINCIAL.

REGULAR BUSINESS.

Disposed of Last Evening by the City Fathers.

The regular weekly meeting of the board of aldermen was held in the city hall last evening, Mayor Grant in the chair, and all the aldermen present [illegible]

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and accepted, the clerk read the following

COMMUNICATIONS:

From T. R. Smith, Hudson's Bay Company, complaining of the sewer emptying into the harbor at the C. P. N. Company's wharf. The communication said that besides filling up the harbor, the discharge from the sewer referred to was very unpleasant.

Ald. Kelly said it was hard on the council as they had no sewers.—On motion it was referred to the sewerage committee.

S. W. Rhodes, also complaining of a bad drain.—Referred to sewerage committee with power to act.

C. E. Mallette, asking the council to pay in part for a sidewalk built by him on Pandora and Government streets.—Referred to street committee to report.

H. F. Heisterman, saying that the arbitrators in the Spring estate claim had come to a decision, and asking the city to take up the award. It was decided that the firm writing be allowed to take up the award.

S. Humphreys, applying for the position of assistant collector of water rates.—Laid on the table.

J. L. Levy, asking why he should pay extra water rates.—Referred to water committee.

Amor DeCosmos, re his offer of the old Methodist church for market purposes.—Laid on the table for two weeks and Mr. DeCosmos to be informed that the council have the communication under consideration. The I. O. O. F., applying for an acre of ground in the new cemetery.—Referred to cemetery committee.

The Pacific Asphalt company asking for permission to use the streets on occasion when they were putting down walks. The request was granted under the supervision of the Street committee.

J. C. Devlin complaining of the water works buildings on Pandora street, and saying that he was ready to lease a lot to the city for that purpose.

Ald. McKillican said the Water Works committee were considering the removal of the building. Referred to the water works committee.

S. Jones applying for connection with the sewer on Blanchard street. Referred to street committee.

R. Irving applying for connection with water mains. Referred to water committee and commissioners.

C. E. Redfern acknowledging the receipt of the acceptance of his tender for a town clock. Referred to hall committee and city barristers to have the contract prepared.

B. Levy and others applying for a sidewalk on St. Louis street. Referred to street committee.

Residents of Hill street applying for the council to have the street graded. Referred to street committee.

TENDERS.

The following tenders were received for the Ross Bay cemetery fence.: Jno. McDowell, Thos. Williams, Thos. Elliott, and W. M. Ross. Referred to the cemetery committee to report.

BY-LAW.

The following by-laws were read a second time: Park commissioners, widening of Chatham street, to amend the bank credit by-law, and to amend the building by-law. The by-law to repeal the fire prevention by-law was laid over for a week.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

Ald. Harrison gave notice that he would move at the next meeting a by-law establishing street grades in the city.

REPORTS.

The finance committee reported the following: 1st. That it would be impossible to amend the paper mills bonus by-law. 2nd. That a reduction could not be made in Mary Droscowitz's taxes. 3rd. That the council had do funds to devote to the banquet given to the Omaha visitors.

The hall committee recommending the adoption of L. G. Henderson's tender for numbering houses at 25 cents each.

FIRES.

His worship the Mayor, in referring to the communication of Hon. John Robson re fires outside the city limits, said that Mr. Robson ought to have considered that the city could not wait until a fire occurred outside the limits but must consider it beforehand, as the city would have to engage extra help for the fire department if they were to go to all fires in and out of the limits. He did not think it fair of the Government not to attend to this, as no one was going to stand by and see a neighbor's house burn down. The Government gave other cities an allowance for the fire department.

Ald. Kelly said the fire department were ready to help other cities and they should be as ready to help the suburbs of their own town.

His worship explained that other cities were in a position to help Victoria if she needed assistance, whereas the Government had not.

At this juncture the fire bells rang, and one and all moved an adjournment which was carried.

University Site.

Thirty acres of land facing Royal Roads have been offered as a site for the proposed university. The situation overlooks the straits of San Juan de Fuca, and from sanitary and scenic stand points cannot be excelled anywhere in the world. The offer has been made by the firm of Bourchier, Croft & Mallette, who represent the owners, to Mayor Grant on behalf of the university.

To be Cut up.

To-day there arrived the first consignment of fall goods for gentleman's clothing. They comprise a well selected stock of Scotch, French, and German goods in the latest patterns, and will be made up at reasonable figures, in a first class manner, by J. McCallum, 43 Fort street. *

WHY THEY DIDN'T COME.

La Blanche Gets Into a Street Fight.

The following from the Port Townsend leader will explain the non-appearance of the La Blanche combination in this city:

"George La Blanche, the Marine, middle-weight champion pugilist of the world, conqueror of the clever and only "Nonpariel," Jack Dempsey, has met his match, and that right in Port Townsend. The Marine and stars of his athletic combination were out viewing the [illegible] early yesterday morning. Among them was W. B. Hawkins, of this city. A foot race for an imaginary purse was run between Hawkins and La Blanche. The latter won it, and Hawkins cried "job," prefacing his terms of endearment with adjectives and proper nouns not found in Webster's dictionary. When the Marine finally became angry he landed one of those gentle love taps which have made him famous under Hawkins' left ear. The latter was knocked out before he was fairly in it. Then Officer Will Furlong made his appearance. He pitted Champion City Ordinance against La Blanche. The Marine saw at once that he was out-classed. He submitted to arrest, was fined $10 and costs and released. Hawkins was also fined. The combination took the early boat for Seattle."

Arrived.

Curling tongs and lamps, ladies pen knives, scissors, etc. and a full line of shaving materials at M. & H. A. Fox's, 78 Government street. *

Not Badly Hurt.

The steamer Elder was not in a dangerous condition in spite of the reports that she was. She was only slightly bruised on the starboard side and only a short delay was caused.

Moving.

The books and fixtures of the city free library are being removed from the rooms in Spencer's block to the new quarters at the city hall, under the supervision of Librarian McGregor. The work is one that will require some days to complete, but patrons of the institution are requested to be patient. When the change is made it will be a marked improvement, as the new rooms are spacious, light and lofty.

Beautiful Women.

The magical efforts of Wisdom's Robertine as a beautifer and preserver of the complexion have been attested by thousands of leading ladies of society and the stage. It is the only article ever discovered which gives a natural and beautiful tint to the complexion, removing tan, sunburn, freckles and all roughness of the face and arms, leaving the skin soft, smooth and velvety. All remarks on its delightfully cooling and refreshing properties, a distinction not found in any other similar article known. D. E. Campbell, agent. *

Islander Leaves Monday.

The northern trip of the good steamer Islander, which leaves Victoria next Monday for all ports between here and Massett, furnishes one of the best and cheapest excursions ever offered the public. A great many staterooms have been taken, and a jolly time is anticipated. One of the principal inducements to make the trip is the exceedingly low rates, only thirty dollars for ten days, just the price of board in any first class hotel, and only steerage rates for a trip across the Atlantic, which occupies but six or seven days. The C.P.N. Co. is noted for its good cuisine and superior accommodation, and it is hard to see where their profit will come in at these rates. A sea voyage gives renewed health, and makes one feel like a new man, while the scenery on the route is unsurpassed for grandeur; in fact there is everything to recommend this trip to those who are fortunate enough to have the time to spare.

The Queen Pays All Expenses.

The Queen's last "Free Trip to Europe" having excited such universal interest, the publishers of that popular magazine offer another and $200 extra for expenses, to the person sending the largest list of English words constructed from letters contained in the words "British North America." Additional prizes, consisting of Silver Tea Sets, China Dinner Sets, Gold Watches, French Music Boxes, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantel Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. A special prize of a Seal Skin Jacket to the lady and a handsome Shetland Pony to the girl or boy (delivered free in Canada or United States), sending largest lists. Everyone sending a list of not less than twenty words will receive a present. Send four 3c. stamps for complete rules, illustrated catalogue of prizes, and sample number of the Queen.

A SOCIAL EVENT.

Marriage of Mr. C. F. Gardiner and Miss Amy Pauline Last Evening.

Christ Church Cathedral was filled last evening at 8 o'clock by an expectant [illegible] to witness the marriage ceremony between Mr. Charles F. Gardiner and Miss Amy Pauline. The bride and groom have hosts of friends, as both are well known and considerable interest was taken in the event. Rev. Henry Kingham performed the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father, Mr. Fred. Pauline, sr. She looked beautiful dressed in a tasteful cream satin, with tulle veiling, orange blossoms, and diamond ornaments. Her bridesmaids, no less lovely, who were dressed in blue nun's veiling, with forget-me-nots and pearls, were the Misses A. F. Gardiner, Florence, Violet, Sarah, Marion, and Nelly Pauline, the first named being a sister of the groom, and the latter five sisters of the bride. Little Harold Pauline acted as page, and bore his part nobly. The groom was supported by Mr. C. P. Lowe.

After the ceremony was over the bridal party were conveyed to the residence of the bride's father, on View street, and were there most elegantly entertained, a supper having been provided for over thirty guests. The health of the bride and groom being drank and supper over, the presents were duly inspected. These were many and costly. A partial list is appended: Diamond bracelets and brooch, to bride from groom; Japanese screen and banner, Miss A. F. Gardiner; cruet, Mr. Jas. Mitchell; bronze picture frame, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson; card receiver, Mr. and Mrs. Lange; pair of pictures, Mr. Chas. Braund; Japanese boxes, the bride's brothers and sisters; cake basket, Mr. A. Weir; tea set, Moorish design, Mr. C. P. Lowe; set silver spoons and forks and soup ladle, Mr. and Mrs. King; set silver pie forks, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley; tilting kettle, Miss A. D. Cameron; marble clock, Mr. F. Pauline, jr.; biscuit basket, Mr. E. D. Atkinson; gold brooch, a friend; tea service, Misses Florence, Violet and Sarah Pauline; pair of vases, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sparrow; silk hand-painted dressing-case, Mr. Geo. A. Gardiner; Japanese wall bracket, Mr. and Mrs. J. Earsman; set of carvers, Mr. and Mrs. Earsman; oil paintings, by the artist, Mr. F. Pauline, sr.; hand-painted screens, Mr. T. B. Norgate; silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin.

At an early hour the guests departed to their several homes, the newly-made happy pair going aboard the Sound steamer, leaving this morning for a honeymoon trip to extend over a period of six weeks in California. Their start in life has been a happy one, and many friends extend to them best wishes that it may long continue bright.

A BUSY DAY.

Firemen Receive Three Calls in Ten Hours—Their Services Recognized.

The first fire alarm on Wednesday was turned in from box 43, corner of Fort and Moss streets. A dense smoke was seen near the residence of Hon. Justice Crease, caused by grass and fencing burning. The firemen extinquished the fire in a few minutes and in recognition Justice Crease handed a cheque for $25 to the Chief.

At 9 o'clock p. m., box 15 began hammering away on the bell and gongs, supplemented by the alarm whistle in the power house. The cause of the second alarm was a fire in F. Wright's residence at the south end of Rock Bay bridge. The occupants of the burning premises kept the fire under control until the firemen arrived. Mr. Wright accidentally set fire to a lamp filled with coal oil and was severely burned about the hands and arms. The small chemical extinguishers were used to suppress the fire.

Shortly after 11 o'clock last night a number of firemen were sent to Beacon Hill to extinguish a grass fire.

COMPLICATED CASES.

The Chinese Fighting Cases Progressing in Other Channels.

That Chinese fighting case that was up in the police court yesterday is likely to lead to something yet, as the two societies implicated are still fighting one another. This morning those who were defending the Chinamen convicted yesterday, brought a charge against Long Tsuin of stealing $1020 and a lot of jewelry, and several who were interested spectators yesterday are acting on the defensive in to-day's case. Sim Kum, the one who laid the information to-day, swore that he had $1020 in a tin box under his bed on Sunday morning, but when he went home on Sunday evening the box was missing. The outer doors of his house he says were broken open, and the locks of the inner doors were picked.

The prosecutor also gave evidence that the prisoner had admitted breaking into the house, but not to stealing the money. He was not cross-examined but an adjournment was asked for and granted.

A Fence Should be Built.

A high fence should be built from the entrance to the police cells to the corner of the city hall building. At present two of the cells in the female ward look out into a vacant lot abutting Cormorant street. The other night two nymphs du pave were locked up in one of the cells. A crowd of young men late at night gathered under the windows and a fine time was had. A bottle of whiskey and bundles of cigarettes were passed through to the girls, a general exchange of thoughts and ideas ensued. The officer on watch in the barracks heard the row, and on his putting in an appearance the young fellows left. A fence should be built and built at once, that no repetition of such an incident may be possible. Even as a precautionary measure it should be done for it would be very possible for an outsider to pass arms and weapons through to persons as things are now.

Baggage Express.

The Driard Transfer Co., Northern Pacific office, Government street, connects with all trains and steamboats. Baggage checked to Puget Sound and all eastern points. je12

For the South.

The following Victoria passengers went to San Francisco by the Umatilla this morning: S. Jeffrey, Miss Brooks, H. Extey and wife, E. N. Kowalsky, R. J. Jones, and W. J. Crammell and wife. She took as freight 1,500 cases of salmon which delayed her about two hours.

Naval Notes.

The Amphion returned this morning from her cruise to Vancouver and among the Islands. Before coming into the harbor she engaged in target practice and in the afternoon was running torpedoes in a bay near Race Rocks.

Loyal Indians.

In a little house built of wreckage and old tin near the outer wharf resides a family of Indians who, like the rest of their nation, are slowly but surely getting into the ways of the paleface. The latest show in this respect of the above family is the display of a Canadian flag over the entrance to their rickety little home. The Indians are evidently beginning to know under whose flag they are living.

Blue Monday.

Every household has a certain amount of washing to do and it goes without saying that a good wringer is a necessity. A great many different styles are used but the latest and best is the "Victorian" which was made expressly for McLennan & McFeely's B. C. trade. Any one requiring a good wringer should see the Victorian.

Will Be Removed.

Residents of Pandora street have for a long time been waiting to see how long the city was going to allow those unsightly workshops to remain as an eyesore to people living in the vicinity. They will read with pleasure that the street and water committees have both decided to remove the buildings to their property on Hospital hill.

At Wellington.

The Free Press says the half dozen soldiers who have been on duty at Wellington were relieved on Wednesday by four new men. For four hours, during the exchange of guards, the front was held by a boy bugler and a corporal. The procession marched down the road with flying colors, as usual, and after the customary cheering, dispersed.

Sale of Work.

The Ladies' Diocesan Auxiliary of Christ Church Cathedral will hold a sale of work at the Cathedral school next Tuesday. Many desirable articles will be offered for sale, and a good lunch will be served from 12 to 2 at a moderate price. It will be a pleasant social event, and, as the proceeds will be devoted to carrying on the church work, the "sale" should be liberally patronized.

Park Commissioners.

A by-law passed at the meeting of the Council on Wednesday night appoints Messrs. Joseph Heywood, J. H. Turner, M. P. P., and Thos. Earle, M. P., park commissioners. These three gentlemen will have control of Beacon Hill Park, and all improvements in future will be carried out under their management. Early next year the people will be asked to vote $50,000 for the further improvement of the park, and there is little doubt that it will be granted.

Passed Out.

The C. P. R. steamer Parthia passed out this morning from Vancouver for China. Pilot Urquhart boarded her off the outer wharf and took her out. She had on board the following passengers: Mr. Gilroy, M. B. Hill, A. W. Thompson, Mr. McLean, Mrs. J. Allan, Mr. Faga, Mrs. Wallace, the Misses Wallace, Master Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock, Miss Gardner, Charles Gardner, Mrs. S. A. Gardner, Thomas Ray. There were also 60 Chinese passengers and a large freight.

Prepare for Cold Weather.

Cold weather is coming and warmer clothing is quite necessary to preserve health, therefore you should act wise and save a dollar or two by having your last fall's overcoats and suits cleaned and repaired or dyed. Ladies' spring jackets can be dyed and made to look respectable for fall and winter. Bring them now to the Victoria Tailoring and Dying establishment, and avoid disappointment. No. 96 Yates street.

JNO. T. PIERRE, Proprietor.

N.B.—Another shipment of English trousering to hand.

Valuable Relics.

Messrs. Kurtz & Co., have on view in their show window two relics that before long will command a fancy price if the wind and wave accomplish their object of breaking up the old steamer Beaver. The relics are two photographs of the old steamer, one of her during the prime of her usefulness and another of her in the position she now occupies. The pictures are framed in wood from the hull of the steamer, decorated with pieces of copper and rope. Even the tacks that hold the frame together were taken from the hull and the whole are splendid relics of the first steamer that rounded the horn.

Consular Changes.

U. S. Consul Myers wishes to have contradicted a published statement to the effect that Vice-Consul Marvin was to be superseded by Mr. Oak Myers, who is also to act as consular clerk. No such change is contemplated, and it could not be, for Mr. Myers the younger could not possibly hold both positions.

Stick to the Right.

Right actions spring from right principles. In cases of diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, summer complaint, cholera morbus, etc., the right remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—an unfailing cure—made on the principle that nature's remedies are best. Never travel without it.
